RED LIGHT CAMERA CITATIONS BEGIN MARCH 28

FRISCO, TX – Frisco's three red light cameras that became operational on February 25 will begin issuing citations starting next Monday, March 28. To date, 472 warnings have been issued to red light runners as part of the Frisco Police Department's gradual introduction of the new camera systems.

"Many of the violations observed during the warning period illustrate the dangers that red light runners pose to commuters in Frisco," said Lieutenant David Shilson. "It is our hope that the use of this technology will change the driving behavior of those who run red lights in order to make Frisco a safer place."

The 31-day warning period has accomplished the police department's goal of re-introducing the cameras, providing adequate notice for motorists of their placement and effectiveness. In addition, the Frisco Citizen Advisory Committee for the Red Light Camera Program has had a chance to see the safety cameras in action and has given the program their full endorsement.

The red light cameras are currently located at southbound Preston Road and Gaylord Parkway, and both northbound and southbound Preston Road at Lebanon Road.
